About this booklet

This survival guide should provide you with all the information necessary for a relaxed and enjoyable stay in Split. Perhaps it will also help you explore Croatia further than Split... Read it carefully and remember there are always volunteers and members of the organising committee around you, and you can ask for help. You will also find here a list of emergency telephone numbers and essential institutions, but we hope you won't need them. Have a beautiful and entertaining conference!

The first important addition to this guide is

<http://tinyurl.com/icps2009map>

Make sure you visit this link. It is a Google map containing information on bus routes, restaurants, clubs and several top sights in Split. On pages 19/20 you will find a printed copy of that map with a list of places described in this booklet.

Another generally useful thing would be to know how to pronounce the strange Croatian characters...

č as in check

ć as in chin (softer than č)

š as in shop

dž as in jar

đ as in duke

ž as in measure

I. F.A.Q.S

- What is Split like?

It is one of the oldest cities in Croatia, former home to Roman emperor Diocletian (his palace is one of Split's top sights, make sure you visit it). Today, it is a tourist and business travel node in Dalmatia. During summer it is very lively with crowded restaurants and clubs, nightlife, excursions and much more. For all information on events and sightseeing, visit the website of the Split Tourist Board:

<http://www.visitsplit.com>

- How can I reach Split?

For all means of transportation to Croatia, and to its major cities, see section "How to get here?" our website. Please keep checking the timetables on various websites mentioned in that section, as they may change.

- How do I find the dormitory?

Assuming you've read the "How to get here" section on our website, and that you are arriving in Split by bus, train or plane, you will end up in the Split Harbour. From there, walk north for approx. 5 minutes to the "Stari Pazar" square. There you can take bus lines No. 11, 15 or 18 to the dormitory. The bus station will be marked with posters. For timetables and stations, see page 9. If you arrive by car or bike, please check the included street map: the address of the dormitory is Matice Hrvatske 13.

- I paid the conference fee. What does it include?

It includes accommodation, all meals, conference materials and the city tour.

- Where do we sleep?

At the pupils' dormitory "Split" (Učenički dom "Split"). Yes, we decided to change the accommodation for the conference, but it is now located just a minute away from the Faculty of Engineering. So, less walking in the hot sun for you. :)

- What's the accommodation like?

Only triple bedrooms are available. The rooms will be assigned upon your arrival, and you will also be able to choose your roommates. There are two shower rooms and lavatories on each floor. Also, there are several kitchens you can use for the national party. Wireless internet is available in a part of the dormitory.

- Where do we eat?

All meals are provided at the hostel. Two lunches will be replaced by lunch packets, during the excursion and city tour. During the National Party evening, after dinner, you are expected to show the best of your country's cuisine.

- What is the recommended presentation format? What about posters?

You can have your presentation in .ppt (.pptx) or .pdf format. Just be sure to bring your presentation on a CD/USB memory stick and copy it onto our computer as soon as possible upon your arrival. Posters can be up to A0 in size.

- How do I travel from the accommodation to the Faculty (FESB)?

Walk around 1 minute to the east, along the "Matice Hrvatske" street.

- Can I pay for everyday things in Euros/Dollars? What about credit cards?

No, only kunas are accepted in stores, but there are exchange bureaus everywhere. Choose the ones that charge "0% commission". Most major credit cards are accepted: MasterCard, Visa, American Express, Diners Club...

- What's the weather like in Split in August? What should I wear?

Summer in Split... it should be very hot, with temperatures above 35°C, so you should have a lot of light clothes with you, UV-shielded sunglasses and a hat. Also, remember to drink a lot, preferably water :) However, if there's a summer shower or thunderstorm, temperature could fall below 15°C for a short period of time, so be prepared for that, too.

- What's there to do in Split?

You can go a bit out of town to the beach, visit some of its restaurants, clubs and cafes, or enjoy an evening in theater and one of many summer culture events. Please check the Google map for details and recommended locations, and page 11 for a bit more detailed description.

- What should I do if I want to travel around Croatia?

Please ask us if you need any assistance or advice. We will try to point you in the right direction and help with accommodation and travel as much as we can.

- What should I do about the national party?

You should bring food and drinks characteristic for your country or city. You don't have to bring all fresh vegetables and bread, as you will be able to buy most of that in Split. Bring the food that you know you won't find anywhere else except in your country. Please, inform us in advance of all kitchen appliances you might need. There are several kitchens at your disposal, but practise has shown that you should focus on snack food, with the least possible cooking. Also, we encourage you to prepare your own music/dance/performance for the party. Help us make this year's National Party a party to remember :)

- What's this Surprise Party?

We have many ideas how to keep you occupied the whole evening/night... Best things come to those who are patient :)

II. QUICK FACTS

Population (April 2001): Croatia - 4,437,460; Split County - 463,676; Split: 188,694

Territory: Croatia's land territory takes up 56,542km². It borders with Hungary, Slovenia, Serbia, Montenegro, Bosnia-Herzegovina and there is a seaborder with Italy.

Dalmatian coast: The coast is the main tourist attraction for good reason - the crystal clear waters are some of the most beautiful on the planet and were just named some of its most pure!

Islands: An amazing 1,246 islands lie off the Dalmatian coast, 47 of them inhabited.

Climate: Mediterranean (this means the summer s very hot. Occasional rain-showers or thunderstorms may appear.)

Local time: Croatia is part of the Central European Time Zone (GMT+1). When it is 12:00 in Split it is 12:00 in Berlin, 11:00 in London, 06:00 in New York, 14:00 in Moscow, and 21:00 in Sydney.

Calling phones: To call an international number from the landlines, dial 00 then the country code and then other numbers, omitting the leading 0. If you are using your cellphone to call a number in Split, dial +385 21 xxxxxx, where xxxxxx is the local number. To call the Croatian mobile networks, simply replace 21 with 91, 92, 95 or 98, depending on the network.

Currency: kuna (Croatian kuna, kn) and 1/100 of a kuna is called lipa. Croatia is not in the Euro zone, so you cannot pay in euros. Dollars, pounds, etc. are not accepted as well. However, there are numerous exchange offices throughout the city. Choose the ones that don't charge any comission and do not exchange all of your money at the airport, the exchange rate is better in the city.

Currently the exchange rate to euro fluctuates around 7.3, which means that for 100 € you can get approximately 730 kn. For up-to-date information check www.hnb.hr/tecajn/htecajn.htm (HRK is 1 kn)

Power supply: AC 220V 50Hz so you might need an adaptor. The power socket looks like this:

Taxi: Taking a taxi in Split is quite expensive. A ride across town costs around 70 kn (10 €), initial price is 20 kn (around 3€). To order a taxi, call 970 from Croatian lines, or +38521970 from your own network Public transport: There are many daytime bus lines and one night line through the city. Visit the website <http://www.promet-split.hr> for details. Here, we list the timetables for lines 15 and 18 which connect the dormitory and FESB with the city centre. For all important bus stops, check the map on pages 19/20.

An individual one-way ticket you can buy on any kiosk costs 10 kn (around 1.5 €), and a two way ticket costs 16kn. You can also buy blocks of 10 two-way tickets for 150kn. These prices are valid for travel on all lines in zone 1, which is probably all you will need during ICPS.

Note: in the table above is the time the bus leaves its initial station. Therefore, the timetable is here only so that you'd know how often the buses go.

Security: You shouldn't fear being attacked or mugged in the street in Croatia. But, as always, exercise caution: never leave your belongings unattended, avoid trouble and report anything suspicious to us. We will deal with it. Below you will find some important telephone numbers, just in case you need them. Always keep your documents with you.

Health: We recommend taking traveler's health insurance with you. There is an emergency station within walking distance from the dormitory, for all emergency cases. Regarding the recent outbreak of swine-flu: there were several cases in Croatia, but there is no shortage of medicine so you should be safe. Report any symptoms you might find suspicious. People allergic to various sorts of food should ask about the food they receive everywhere.

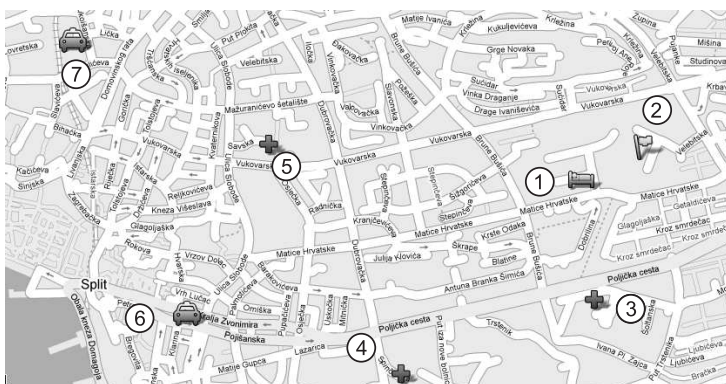

Smoking: Smoking is, as of this year, prohibited in all closed public spaces. This means that you are allowed to smoke only in designated areas of some cafe's and clubs. The penalties are high, so watch out. Smoking is also prohibited in the dormitory and faculty.

Alcohol: Alcoholic drinks are, of course, not prohibited, but their abuse in a public place will be reported to the police. Have fun, but behave responsibly.

IV. FOOD & DRINKS IN DALMATIA

Everyone will find something about the Dalmatian cuisine that they like. Here we list only some delicacies you should try: various homemade cheese, all of sea food, especially grilled fish and squid salad, then (pronounced pashtitsada) with gnocchi, which is a specialty of Dalmatia, roast lamb... ask any of our volunteers for details. Olive oil, good wine and various sweets and cakes should also find their way onto your menu in Split.

We will provide all meals during the conference, but here are some advices on where to have a snack or a full meal when you're away from the dormitory, where to go out for a coffee or beer or to listen to some music.

"Rizzo" is perhaps the most popular sandwich bar in Split, with reasonable prices and a wide variety of toppings. You can find Rizzo in Tončićeva street 4 and in the Joker Shopping Mall. The average price of a sandwich is 15 - 20 kn.

"None" is a very good restaurant in Bosanska street 4, with many authentic Dalmatian melas. The average price is 30 - 50 kn.

Konoba "Fife" is a great mid-range restaurant offering everything from light snacks to top fish and meat delicacies. The menu changes daily depending on available fresh ingredients. Address: Trumbićeva obala 11, also displayed on the map (see pages 19/20).

Clubs and concerts

If you like rock music, you might want to visit the Firule beach to see a live concert by some of Split's popular young rock bands. Beer prices in bars on the beach are 10 - 15 kn.

Also, you might want to visit the legendary music club O'Hara, offering a wide variety of music. Address: Uvala Zenta 3. Entrance fee is around 15 kn (~ 2€) and beer costs 10 - 15 kn.

There are numerous cafes and bars throughout Split, where you can sit, have a coffee or beer and relax. Average drink prices are as follows: coffee 10 kn, a glass of juice is 15 - 20 kn, beer around 15 kn and various spirits 15 - 20 kn.

Hemingway and Vanilla are two very fancy clubs. Dress code is enforced (no sneakers allowed) and the prices are 10 - 15 kn higher. Also, they are further away from the dormitory so keep in mind you'll probably have to walk all the way home.

Live concerts

We will put up posters with information on new concerts and parties around town on a daily basis. Keep an eye on the information boards.

V. SHOPPING

The main shopping street in the old town is Marmontova street. There you will find everything from souvenirs to clothes and electrical appliances. This street is perpendicular to the Riva, and if you follow it to the north, you will find the "Prima Grad" Shopping mall, with many internationally-acclaimed shops.

Very close to the accommodation is another shopping centre: "Prima 3" with various stores, cafe's and a bank with an exchange office.

One of the newer shopping malls in Split is Joker. You might be mislead to pronounce it the batman-way, but it's pronounced "yokher". If you find yourself there, be sure to try one of Rizzo's sandwiches.

VI. SIGHTS

Riva is the heart of the city. This is where things start in the morning, with first cups of coffee being poured, and actually never end untill the next morning. This broad street along the waterfront, shaded by palmtrees is the meetingplace of people from Split. Whenever you come here, you are sure to find the crowded cafes, and loud people.

Diocletian's Palace is a living museum in a building from the 3rd century. Now it is filled with small shops offering a variety of goods, museums, galleries and so on. Looking from outside, it is dominated by the St. Domnius Cathetral.

Marjan peninsula is a popular getaway from the city. Still, it is only 5 minutes away from the centre, so it's perfect for a quick lone walk to clear your thoughts or for a refreshing bike ride. On top of the hill is a cafe Vidilica, where you can enjoy a refreshing drink with a view of the whole city and the islands.

The markets are crawling with aromas, shapes and colours and you are sure to find whatever pleases your heart. And appetite, too. Just north from the ferry harbor is the green market ("Stari pazar") and near Marmontova street you will find the fish market ("Ribarnica").

This is the recommended place to buy vegetables and other supplies you need for the national party!

VII. THE ISLANDS NEAR SPLIT

Split is well connected to most of the Dalmatian Islands by ferry or catamaran lines. This way, you can reach The Islands of Brač, Hvar, Vis, Korčula... all in under two hours. We recommend travelling by catamaran because it's faster. However, if you'd like to chillout on the deck under the sun, the ferry is the right choice for you. Ticket prices are as follows:

Route (Island)	type	price	duration
Split - Hvar (Hvar)	catamaran	22 kn	1 hour
Split - Stari Grad (Hvar)	ferry(deck)	42 kn	2 hours
Split - Vis (Vis)	catamaran	26 kn	>3 hours
Split - Vis (Vis)	ferry(deck)	47 kn	>3 hours
Split - Korčula (Korčula)	ferry(deck)	77 kn	3 hours
Split - Vela Luka (Korčula)	catamaran	27 kn	2 hours
Split - Bol (Brač) - page 15	catamaran	22 kn	1 hour
Split - Supetar (Brač)	ferry(deck)	30 kn	50 minutes

You can take your bike on a ferry for a surcharge of ~ 10kn. For details, see www.jadrolinija.hr

Brač is the largest island in Dalmatia by area and the highest point in the Adriatic sea (the peak Mount St. Vid at 780m is a nice climb for hikers among the participants). It is mostly a tourist-oriented island, but the main other sources of income are fishing, olive oil and precious white marble, used throughout the world because of its purity and quality (one example is the UN building in New York).

The most famous beach in the Adriatic is on Brač: the Golden Cape ("Zlatni rat") seen on the photo to the right. Among the cities to visit are Supetar, Pučišća (we dare you to try and pronounce this) and, if you are there by car or bike, many small picturesque villages and bays. Everything put together, this island, under an hour away by ship, is worth your visit.

Hvar is the next major island closest to Split. Famous for its summer cultural programme, fancy clubs and parties and live music till the morning, this island, especially around the city of Hvar, is the top location for young tourists visiting Dalmatia. However, there's a catch: it is also one of the more expensive tourist locations.
